Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

We would like to invite you to submit a paper for our Special Issue on Decolonizing East African Genealogies of Power. The aim of this Special Issue is to provide a space for narrating the genealogy of East African peoples, their lived experiences, indigenous knowledge, and local stories by disentangling their dependency on the interest in colonial categories and Eurocentric theoretical constructs.

This Special Issue will contribute to the global decolonial movement where genealogy becomes a genuine expression of local and environmental life as experienced and narrated by the people, rather than a discourse burdened by the interests of those who yield power. We invite articles that interrogate colonial constructs of any kind across East Africa as well as papers that provide insights into the life histories, struggles, and experiences of local people.

Message from the Editorial Board

Genealogy is a scholarly journal that provides a venue for academic, cutting-edge contributions to the interdisciplinary field of genealogy studies. We welcome contributions that examine genealogies of family lineage, use genealogical considerations and methods in examining other historical processes (including migration histories, personal, social, and national identities, and social institutions) or study the construction of genealogical narratives. The journal is also interested in biographical studies and their contribution to the understanding of broader social and historical phenomena.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), and many other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 24.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 4.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2023).
