

Special Issue

Exploring Equality, Diversity and Inclusion in Healthcare Settings and Medical Education Institutions: Lived Experiences, Interventions, Policies, Theories and Best Practices

Message from the Guest Editors

Topics that would be appropriate for this Special Issue include, but are not limited to:

- Research that explores equality, diversity, and inclusion in healthcare settings and medical and educational institutions, including policy, theory, and practice, and ways to tackle inequality.
- Research that centralises the lived experiences of discrimination and bullying amongst clinicians, patients, and students.
- Frameworks for promoting a positive workplace culture: preventing bullying, harassment, and discrimination in healthcare settings and the wider community.
- Systems, programmes, practices, principles, policies, or protocols at work or in organisations that either hinder or facilitate health, work, and patient outcomes in relation to minority healthcare professionals.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Genealogy is a scholarly journal that provides a venue for academic, cutting-edge contributions to the interdisciplinary field of genealogy studies. We welcome contributions that examine genealogies of family lineage, use genealogical considerations and methods in examining other historical processes (including migration histories, personal, social, and national identities, and social institutions) or study the construction of genealogical narratives. The journal is also interested in biographical studies and their contribution to the understanding of broader social and historical phenomena.
