Age-Friendly Ecosystems: Voices from around the World

Message from the Guest Editor

The term age-friendly has become commonplace over the past decade but it means many things to different people. Different lexicons and approaches restrict the ability for any of us to have a positive international discussion that can move us ahead collectively. The purpose of this special Issue is to invite voices from around the world to discuss the meaning of age-friendly in the context of their work including age-friendly cities, age-friendly health systems, age-friendly communities, age-friendly public health systems, age-friendly universities and dementia-friendly settings.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Our new journal is launched to serve geriatrics specialists and colleagues from other disciplines as an interface between theory and clinical practice. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, I kindly invite you to consider publishing your current work in Geriatrics. We have chosen the format of an open access journal to provide all interested parties with a platform for their basic research and health care studies as well. For details on the submission process or any other matter, please visit the journal website. I hope to handle your contribution to Geriatrics soon to publish innovative, relevant, thought provoking ideas.
