Healthcare Management: Improving Patient Outcomes and Service Quality

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to contribute to our Special Issue, titled “Healthcare Management: Improving Patient Outcomes and Service Quality”. As the global demand for high-quality healthcare services continues to rise, healthcare institutions face mounting challenges, including resource constraints, the need for equitable access, and the integration of new technologies.

Effective management strategies are pivotal in addressing these challenges and ensuring that healthcare systems are resilient, efficient, and patient-focused. This Special Issue aims to highlight the importance of innovative approaches to healthcare management that prioritize patient outcomes and service quality, fostering more equitable and effective healthcare systems for all. In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Healthcare operation management.
- Patient-centered care initiatives.
- Quality improvement methodologies.
- Health policy and governance.
- Technological innovations in healthcare delivery.
- Strategies for enhancing patient safety.
- Equity and access in healthcare.
