

Special Issue

Community Care of Older People with Chronic Diseases

Message from the Guest Editor

The aging population is a major challenge for healthcare systems and governments. This Special Issue of Healthcare seeks commentaries, original research, short reports, and reviews on the challenges and difficulties that aging societies are inflicting on healthcare systems and solutions that work locally or more broadly. It is envisioned that this Special Issue will become a useful resource for policymakers, national and international organizations, and other stakeholders that are designing healthcare provision for the future that respects local particularities and end-user wishes and expectations.
