

Special Issue

Leveraging ChatGPT and Large Language Models for Healthcare Advancements: Applications, Challenges, and Future Directions

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue aims to explore the transformative role and impact of LLMs, including ChatGPT, on healthcare and the challenges that accompany their integration, by inviting scholars and practitioners from the fields of natural language processing, healthcare, and artificial intelligence to share their findings and exchange their insightful ideas. We believe that with your contributions this Special Issue will serve as an authoritative and indispensable resource for researchers, professionals, and the healthcare community at large.
