

Special Issue

Interdisciplinary Perspectives in Maternal Health: Integrating Theoretical Frameworks and Practical Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

We are excited to announce a call for submissions for the upcoming Special Issue entitled “Interdisciplinary Perspectives in Maternal Health: Integrating Theoretical Frameworks and Practical Applications” to be published in Healthcare. This Special Issue endeavors to serve as a confluence of cutting-edge research, innovative practices, and theoretical advancements addressing the complex challenges in maternal health care. Our objective is to compile a comprehensive collection of articles that reflect the multidisciplinary nature of maternal health, highlighting novel interventions, evidence-based practices, and insightful analyses that can inform policy, education, and clinical care. Contributions may encompass a variety of topics, such as technological innovations in maternal care, psychological aspects of maternal health, socio-economic determinants, and global health perspectives. This Special Issue seeks to foster a dialogue among professionals from diverse backgrounds, encouraging the exchange of ideas, collaboration, and the integration of different disciplines to enhance maternal health outcomes.
