Special Issue

Feature Papers in Artificial Intelligence in Medicine

Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleague, This Special Issue aims to provide technical details of artificial intelligence in medicine. These details will hold great interest for researchers in artificial intelligence, medicine, healthcare, smart technology, quality technology, quantitative management, ambient intelligence, mobile commerce, operations research, system science, and information management, as well as for practicing managers and engineers. This Special Issue will feature a balance between state-of-the-art research and practical applications. This Special Issue also provides a forum for researchers and practitioners to review and disseminate quality research work on artificial intelligence applications to medical and healthcare and the critical issues for further development.
