Health Education and Prevention: New Healthcare Perspectives for Emerging Challenges

Message from the Guest Editor

I am pleased to invite you to read the Special Issue titled “Health Education and Prevention: New Healthcare Perspectives for Emerging Challenges”. This Special Issue of Healthcare will explore advances and innovative approaches in health education and prevention to address emerging challenges in healthcare. In an ever-changing global environment, education and prevention play a crucial role in improving public health outcomes and the sustainability of health systems. This Special Issue aims to: Analyze how innovative approaches to health professional education can better prepare new generations to face emerging challenges; Present health promotion and prevention strategies that use digital technologies and community-based approaches to improve access and quality of care; Explore the impact of multidisciplinary approaches in improving patient care and strengthening preventive strategies; Examine how these innovations can contribute to reducing health inequalities and support the sustainable development of health systems.
