Chronic Disease Prevention and Risk Control

Message from the Guest Editor

We welcome submissions on a broad range of topics, including, but not limited to, lifestyle interventions, early risk detection, health behavior change, community-based prevention programs, health equity in chronic disease management, and the use of digital health tools in risk control. Interdisciplinary and international perspectives are particularly encouraged, including those from public health, medicine, sociology, epidemiology, behavioral science, and health policy. Researchers, clinicians, and practitioners are invited to contribute original research, reviews, and perspectives that can inform future action and collaboration in chronic disease prevention. Join us in shaping the future of public health and clinical practice in this crucial area.
