Sleep Disorders Management in Primary Care

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is soliciting manuscripts addressing topics related to the evaluation and management of sleep disorders and its symptoms in the primary care setting. Original articles, commentaries, and reviews on the prevalence, screening, evaluation, and diagnostic strategies of sleep disorders in primary care, as well as on the evaluation of the risk factors, natural history, and consequences of sleep disorders, and on the topics of management and treatment options available will be considered.

The aim of the Special Issue is to provide updated information of the current screening, diagnosis, and management of sleep disorders in primary care settings. Additional research to identify potential barriers to effectively addressing sleep disorders, to improve the diagnostic accuracy of screening tools and the provision of sleep services in primary care are particularly welcome.
