

Special Issue

Heritage and Sustainability: Keys to the Management and Valorization of Natural Resources

Message from the Guest Editors

The preservation and enhancement of cultural heritage is fundamental to sustainable development and the strengthening of community identity. This Special Issue seeks to contribute to the understanding and dissemination of practices that integrate heritage conservation with sustainability and community well-being. Authors are invited to submit original papers exploring the following themes: cultural heritage and renewable natural resources; tourism and cultural heritage; agriculture and cultural heritage; forest resources and cultural heritage; climate change and cultural heritage resilience; emerging issues in heritage and sustainability. Papers are encouraged to include case studies, public policy analysis, literature reviews and innovative proposals to strengthen the relationship between heritage, natural resources and sustainable development. We look forward to receiving research that offers innovative and practical perspectives for a more sustainable and culturally aware future.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Heritage is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal that focuses on knowledge, conservation, interpretation and management of cultural and natural heritage, by presenting and enabling novelty and advances in sensing technologies, novel methods, best practices and policies. Heritage has the ambition to become a “cultural forum”, where scientists and experts offer answers to significant issues affecting cultural and natural heritage, by creating a knowledge bridge between different technological and social disciplines. Heritage has an Editorial Board of eminent international leaders and this ensures rigorous peer-review processing for high quality and novel papers. We strongly recommend Heritage for the rapid and professional publication of your innovative research and case studies.
