

Special Issue

History from Scratch – Voices across the Planet

Message from the Guest Editor

Idea of Special Issue is to collect voices from all continents except the Antarctic and offer possibility to historians to invent it from scratch, and imagine the field as they would wish it to be, or precisely not wish it to be. Therefore, as a contributor, you are invited to choose aspects and points of the historical field and profession that catch your attention and that you would highlight for a larger audience.
