Plant Production in Controlled Environment

Message from the Guest Editors

Interest and popularity in growing crops under controlled environments has increased globally among researchers and industry. To better serve this burgeoning field, Horticulturae is planning a special issue on “Plant Production in Controlled Environment”. We would like to welcome both research and review articles in this special issue. Any ornamental, transplants, food crops, including mushroom, grown under controlled environment are welcome. Topics include:

- High tunnel and greenhouse crop production
- Indoor farms (growth chamber, warehouse, shipping containers)
- Hydroponics and Aquaponics
- LED lighting (uses and benefits, latest technologies available, latest research)

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Horticultural plants and their products provide sustenance, health, and beauty. A confluence of factors is putting increasing pressure on horticultural production to evolve, and innovative research is addressing these challenges. Horticulturae provides a venue to communicate research results in a rapid manner with open access, allowing everyone the opportunity to stay abreast of leading research addressing horticulture. I invite you to consider publishing the results of your research in this high quality, peer-reviewed journal.
