

Special Issue

Prague German Circle(s): Stable Values in Turbulent Times?

Message from the Guest Editor

This special issue will bring much needed attention in English to this group of Czech-German writers. With Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach as its inaugural author, Brod's Prague Circle counted among its members some of the most sophisticated crafters of the German language. According to subsequent scholars of the Circle(s), many authors, such as Egon Erwin Kisch, Franz Werfel, Ernst Weiss, Paul Kornfeld, Oskar Baum, Ludwig Winder, Otto Pick, Willy Haas, Johannes Urzidil, Hermann Ungar, Rudolf Fuchs, F.C. Weiskopf, Hermann Grab, Friedrich Torberg, Paul Adler, Hanna Demetz, and Hans Klaus, were well-received critically in their own time but are still today not well-known, especially in the Anglophone world. Papers in English dealing with these authors are welcome as well as on the women authors who begin and end the existence of this unique constellation of authors: Ebner-Eschenbach and Lenka Reinerová.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

We welcome contributions that address fundamental issues in the Humanities from any meaningful perspective, combining past and present concerns in order to blaze a path toward the future. Interdisciplinary approaches are particularly welcome. All submissions will be critically reviewed by peers, aiming for the highest possible scholarly level. Being an online journal, the published papers will reach their desired audiences faster, more reliably, and much more easily than traditional print versions, while upholding the same, if not even higher, scholarly standards.
