Message from the Guest Editors

Papers addressing one or more of the following dimension are invited for this Special Issue, especially those combining a high academic standard coupled with a practical focus on providing optimal healthy city planning solutions.

- Physical activity and urban design;
- Urban environment and health outcomes;
- Planning, regulating and financing healthy neighborhoods;
- Social innovation and health services provision.

Deadline for manuscript submissions:
closed (31 October 2019)
Addressing the environmental and public health challenges requires engagement and collaboration among clinicians and public health researchers. Discovery and advances in this research field play a critical role in providing a scientific basis for decision-making toward control and prevention of human diseases, especially the illnesses that are induced from environmental exposure to health hazards. IJERPH provides a forum for discussion of discoveries and knowledge in these multidisciplinary fields. Please consider publishing your research in this high quality, peer-reviewed, open access journal.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (Web of Science), Social Sciences Citation Index (Web of Science), MEDLINE (PubMed), Scopus (Elsevier) and other databases. Full-text available in PubMed Central.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision provided to authors approximately 17.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2019).
