

Special Issue

Emotional Well-Being and Coping Strategies during the COVID-19 Crisis

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to highlight recent findings on psychological struggles, emotional well-being, and coping strategies adopted to face the challenges related to the pandemic. We welcome submissions on mental health risk factors, the trajectory of adjustment and well-being, and resilience and behavioral changes related to the problems raised by the pandemic.

Submissions from the fields of psychology, psychiatry, and sociology regarding these topics are welcome. Contributions considering the implementation and effectiveness of interventions for specific groups of people (health workers, children, elderly, patients, etc.) are especially encouraged.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Addressing the environmental and public health challenges requires engagement and collaboration among clinicians and public health researchers. Scientific discoveries and advances in this research field play a critical role in providing a rational basis for informed decision-making toward control and prevention of human diseases, especially the illnesses that are induced from environmental exposure to health hazards.

IJERPH provides a forum for discussion of discoveries and knowledge in these multidisciplinary fields. Please consider publishing your research in this high quality peer-reviewed journal.
