Inequalities in Health Care

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue of the International Journal of Environmental Research and Public Health (IJERPH) focuses on the inequalities in the distribution of health resources and barriers to access to adequate healthcare services. We welcome research papers, reviews, case reports, and commentaries, especially those dealing with new approaches and insights. We will accept manuscripts from different disciplines, including but not limited to public health, health economics, health systems research, and healthcare management.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Addressing the environmental and public health challenges requires engagement and collaboration among clinicians and public health researchers. Scientific discoveries and advances in this research field play a critical role in providing a rational basis for informed decision-making toward control and prevention of human diseases, especially the illnesses that are induced from environmental exposure to health hazards.

IJERPH provides a forum for discussion of discoveries and knowledge in these multidisciplinary fields. Please consider publishing your research in this high quality peer-reviewed journal.
