

Special Issue

5th Anniversary of Occupational Safety and Health Section

Message from the Guest Editors

The International Journal of Environmental Research and Public Health established the Section "Occupational Safety and Health" in 2017. To celebrate the fifth anniversary of this Section, a Special Issue titled "5th Anniversary of Occupational Safety and Health Section" is being planned. In recent years, significant changes have occurred in the world of work, and the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic has accelerated these beyond anything we could have imagined. In this Special Issue, we welcome original and review articles that examine challenges raised by these evolving occupational scenarios and innovative approaches to the evaluation of hazards and the exposures in workplaces engaged in innovative activities, both through environmental and biological monitoring, needs and frameworks for a suitable occupational risk assessment, management and governance, and occupational health and safety approaches to promote workforce wellbeing.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Addressing the environmental and public health challenges requires engagement and collaboration among clinicians and public health researchers. Scientific discoveries and advances in this research field play a critical role in providing a rational basis for informed decision-making toward control and prevention of human diseases, especially the illnesses that are induced from environmental exposure to health hazards.

IJERPH provides a forum for discussion of discoveries and knowledge in these multidisciplinary fields. Please consider publishing your research in this high quality peer-reviewed journal.
