

Special Issue

Making Green from Green: The Truth about Sustainable Finance

Message from the Guest Editor

The International Journal of Financial Studies is pleased to announce a call for papers for a Special Issue focused on Sustainable Finance. We welcome original research papers, reviews, case studies, and conceptual papers that offer novel insights into various aspects of sustainable finance. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Sustainable investment strategies;
- Socially responsible investing;
- ESG hype vs. Reality;
- The impact and unintended consequences of policy and regulation on sustainability;
- Counter-intuitive research, demonstrating that sustainable business practices may not be linked to superior long-term company performance;
- Sustainability accounting;
- Green bonds and other sustainable financial products;
- Environmental, social, and governance (ESG) finance and investment;
- Environmental risk assessment and management;
- Impact investing;
- Greenwashing;
- Corporate sustainability reporting and disclosure;
- Climate finance and risk;
- Sustainable banking and insurance.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I'm thrilled to take the leadership reins of the International Journal of Financial Studies and welcome the opportunity to make it one of the vanguard open-source scientific journals in our field. I eagerly look forward to working with the journal editorial team in building upon the quality instilled by my predecessor to develop the title further and broaden the appeal to other new finance research areas while keeping our core a high-quality finance journal that serves and highly values the scientific community, readers and authors alike. IJFS aims to publish high-quality manuscripts in both theoretical and empirical finance spanning all the major research areas in the field. It aims to provide an outlet for original finance scholarly research that promotes interaction among finance scholars and practitioners and bridges the divide that can exist between them.
