HealthScape: Intersections of Health, Environment, and GIS&T (2nd Edition)

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue, titled “HealthScape: Intersections of Health, Environment, and GIS&T(2nd edition)”, is rooted in geospatial thinking and aims to encapsulate the dynamic convergence of GIS&T with geographical, epidemiological, environmental, and health research, shedding light on the multifaceted ways our environment influences health outcomes. Within this Special Issue, we invite original contributions in the following areas: geographical analysis and modeling for health and the environment (physical, socioeconomic, and virtual); frontiers of GIS&T and AI technologies for health data and research; socioeconomic, physical, and virtual environmental health and exposure analysis; physical and virtual healthcare accessibility and inequities; health vulnerabilities amidst climate and environmental changes; GIS&T and AI-technology-driven health policy and decision support.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The ISPRS International Journal of Geo-Information invites you to submit research articles, reviews, and reports covering topics of the whole domain of geo-information. Although the journal was only founded in 2012, it has already achieved wide recognition in the scientific community. We are proud that since April 2015, our journal is indexed by the SCIE of the Web of Science. As Editor-in-Chief, I encourage you to consider IJGI for your scientific papers and would be pleased to welcome you as authors.

Editor-in-Chief
