Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue welcomes both original research articles and review papers addressing the molecular mechanisms involved in therapeutic resistance, lineage plasticity, and phenotypic reprogramming, leading to prostate cancer recurrence and, ultimately, lethal disease. We are particularly interested in manuscripts addressing molecular markers of treatment failure in prostate cancer patients, new molecular tools to overcome therapeutic resistance, and the development of novel therapeutics efficiently targeting metastatic tumors in pre-clinical models.

Keywords:

Prostate cancer; therapeutic resistance; lineage plasticity; neuroendocrine phenotype; androgen receptor; phenotypic reprogramming; novel targets; epigenetics; molecular signatures

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
