Healing of skin wounds, both acute and chronic, is recognized by the World Health Organization as a global unmet need. There are a variety of therapeutic options available to improve the healing process. However, this Special Issue will focus on advanced biomaterials capable of driving positive healing responses. Biomaterials and cells, including stem cells, are core elements of translational biomedical sciences and have provided us a plethora of knowledge necessary to develop various technologies for wound healing and the regeneration of skin.

The goal of proposing this Special Issue “Advanced Biomaterials for Wound Healing” is to provide the audience a taste of the promising recent novel biomaterial strategies that have greatly advanced the field of wound healing resulting in improved quality of life.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)
