Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The current treatments for bone tumors and so/ tissue tumors include surgical therapy, radiotherapy, and chemotherapy. Although intensive chemotherapy and the establishment of surgical procedures have improved the outcomes of patients with bone and so/ tissue tumors, the current rate of recurrent and metastatic sarcomas remains unsatisfactory. New therapeutic technologies have been investigated as an alternative approach to overcome the limitations of the currently employed strategies. This Special Issue aims to gather original research and review articles focused on molecular basic research for bone tumors and so/ tissue tumors. This issue also invites novel discoveries, approaches, and technical developments related to bone tumors and so/ tissue tumors, including tumor-on-a-chip strategies.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
