

Special Issue

Chronic Hypoxia and Inflammation in Human Pathology

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to systematically collect the available evidences of the crucial role of the hypoxia/inflammation axis in various human diseases. Your contributions should be focused in particular on: what the specific genesis of the hypoxic microenvironment is.; what molecular damage pathway(s) are activated; the identification of biomarkers for a more precise diagnosis, damage progression and a predictive prognosis; and suggesting new, non-canonical therapeutic strategies versus traditional therapeutics, even utilizing off-label drugs already available.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)
