Peptide and Protein Metalation

Message from the Guest Editors

A symposium titled “Peptide and Protein metalation” will be held in Naples, Italy, on 10–12 June 2025 (<https://www.ppmnaples25.com/home>). The symposium will bring together world-renowned scientists and be a great opportunity to discuss the latest advances in the field of the interaction between metal ions or metal complexes and peptides and proteins. Inspired by this congress, the International Journal of Molecular Science will publish a Special Issue celebrating this topic and, as , we would be glad to invite you to contribute with original, high-quality works. Communications, full papers, and review articles are encouraged for this Special Issue. All submissions will go through an impartial peer review process. Submissions for this SI are open. The SI is due to be published in late 2026.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
