Molecular Research of Gastrointestinal Disease

Message from the Guest Editors

Led by Prof Kulmira Nurgali and assisted by our promotion editor, Dr Nyanbol Kuol (University of Nevada, Reno, US), this Special Issue of IJMS, “Molecular Research of Gastrointestinal Disease”, welcomes basic original research and review papers to be submitted for peer review. The submitted papers can cover any aspects of molecular research relevant to a broad range of gastrointestinal disorders. Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- molecular mechanisms of gastrointestinal functions in health and disease;
- molecular targets for therapeutic intervention;
- molecular markers for diagnostics of gastrointestinal disorders.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
