Modeling Neurogenesis, Regeneration and Disease from Animal Models

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite researchers to contribute to this Special Issue, which aims to present research using animal models to investigate the molecular and structural bases of neurogenesis, neural regeneration, and neurological disease. By integrating multidisciplinary approaches, this Special Issue will bridge molecular insights with structural and functional outcomes, strengthening the translational relevance of animal-based neuroscience research.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
