Message from the Guest Editor

We would like to invite you to contribute a manuscript to the Special Issue on "Molecular Advances in Systemic Lupus Erythematosus".

- Genetic predisposition and epigenetic modifications in systemic lupus erythematosus susceptibility.
- Dysregulation of immune responses and inflammation pathways in systemic lupus erythematosus.
- Molecular biomarkers for early diagnosis, disease activity monitoring, and prognosis prediction.
- Novel therapeutic targets and strategies, including precision medicine approaches.
- Advancements in molecular imaging techniques for systemic lupus erythematosus detection and monitoring.
- Molecular mechanisms underlying organ-specific manifestations in systemic lupus erythematosus.
- Microbiota and dysbiosis in systemic lupus erythematosus, alongside the abnormal generation of bioactive metabolites affecting both cardiovascular and immune functions.

Please note that the Special Issue is focused on molecular research, so pure clinical research will not be accepted.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
