

Special Issue

Photobiology and Medical Biomaterials Research

Message from the Guest Editors

With the development of laser technology and its precision, optical technologies for molecular detection and regulation has matured and been widely applied in the biomedical field including biomedical imaging and sensor, disease diagnosis and therapies, nerve and immune regulation, etc. Thus, it is very necessary to further clarify the interaction mechanism between light and biomolecules, develop more relevant optical technologies, and expand their applications in the biomedical field. In this Special Issue, we invite optical and biomedical specialists, doctors who are interested in clinical research, researchers in biomedical materials science, and all the experts conducting relevant studies to contribute their original research articles or relevant reviews on this topic. We welcome you to submit your contributions to this prestigious journal. Thank you very much for your attention and we look forward to seeing you in the Special Issue.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore
- Q1 (Organic Chemistry)
