Advancements in Inflammatory and Oxidative Disease Research

Message from the Guest Editor

Excessive inflammation and oxidative stress are detrimental to our body's homeostasis. Therefore, we warmly invite you to submit your valuable contributions and papers to our Special Issue in the International Journal of Molecular Sciences. Inflammatory and oxidative diseases span a wide range of medical specialties, including endocrinology, neurology, gastroenterology, pulmonology, and rheumatology. Our Special Issue welcomes original articles as well as reviews. We also invite you to submit studies on using medicinal plants and bioactive compounds as well as established, novel, or yet to be explored drugs as an intervention.

This Special Issue is supervised by and assisted by our Assistant Dr. Lucas Fornari Laurindo, Department of Biochemistry and Pharmacology, School of Medicine, Universidade de Marília (UNIMAR). Thank you for considering our Special Issue for your research. We appreciate your interest and look forward to receiving your papers.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
