Molecular Mechanisms of the Pathogenesis of Antiphospholipid Syndrome (APS)

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will cover the problems of the mechanisms of thrombosis and thromboinflammation in general practice. These include septic complications, septic shock, obstetric problems associated with thromboinflammation in severe forms of pre-eclampsia, hemostatic disorders, and mechanisms of thrombosis and organ thrombotic disorders in patients with COVID-19 and post-COVID-19 neonatal sepsis as well as neonatal septic shock.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
