300 Years of the University of Burgundy, France—Focus on Three Health Research Themes: Neurodegenerative Diseases/Brain Function, Cardiovascular Diseases, and Cancer

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is dedicated to the 300th anniversary of the University of Burgundy in France, focusing on three major areas developed in the field of health: neurodegenerative diseases and therefore brain function, cardiovascular diseases, and cancer, celebrating our research teams and their high-quality work. This Special Issue aims to highlight fundamental, applied, and interdisciplinary research on the wide range of topics studied by the laboratories of the UFR Sciences, Vie, Terre et Environnement, or the UFR Sciences de Santé and their collaborators in the framework of the IJMS journal. Review articles and original research papers are welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
