

Special Issue

The Immunobiology of Cannabinoids in Health and Diseases

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is consecrated to unraveling the dynamics and Immunobiology of cannabis as well as better understanding of interactive mechanisms responsible for the cross-talk between cannabis/endocannabinoid setting and the immune system. We will focus on basic and translational research and studies on the Immunobiologic features of cannabinoids and endocannabinoid system through an immunologic paradigm. The ultimate goal would be to benefit of both academia and industry. We welcome both original research and review articles.

Potential topics include but are not limited to the following:

- Medicinal cannabis and inflammatory responses
- Medicinal cannabis and age-related diseases
- Medicinal cannabis and malignancies
- Medicinal cannabis and cognitive function
- Medicinal cannabis and metabolic diseases
- Medicinal cannabis and psychiatric diseases

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
