State-of-the-Art Molecular Oncology in Italy

Message from the Guest Editors

An increasing number of research teams in Italy have been devoting considerable effort to developing and studying molecular oncology, significantly consolidating our understanding of this field. By collecting high-quality contributions from scholars working in Italian universities and research institutes, this Special Issue aims to provide a comprehensive overview of the latest advances and the most recent discoveries and progress in all fields of molecular oncology in Italy. We encourage submission of original full research papers as well as review articles dealing with novel mechanistic insights and details of the molecular signatures of oncogenic transformation. We also encourage submission of manuscripts that focus on translating basic molecular knowledge to new medical applications in oncology. Articles reporting novel technologies aimed at identifying disease biomarkers are also welcomed.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
