The Self-Assembly and Design of Polyfunctional Nanosystems

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite you to contribute a full research paper or review article for peer-review and possible publication in our Special Issue “Self-Assembly and Design of Polyfunctional Nanosystems”. This Special Issue will be devoted to (i) fundamental aspects of self-assembly of amphiphilic compounds including surfactants, polymers, macrocycles, and mixed systems on their basis; (ii) potential application of these systems in practice, with special emphasis on drug delivery and other aspects of biomedicine; (iii) combination of aforementioned amphiphilic compounds with other nanomaterials resulting in new hybrid composite materials with diverse potential applications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
