Advances in Metabolism, Immunology, Genetics in Thyroid Cancer and Thyroid Disease: From Bench to Therapy

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will focus on the molecular bases of hormone metabolism alteration, thyroid cell dysfunction, and immune-endocrine interaction; moreover, special attention will be dedicated to the investigation of molecular markers involved in thyroid cancer diagnosis, prognosis, and therapy. Reports on patients with novel or peculiar molecular characteristics will also be included. The aim of this Special Issue is to provide an overview of the most recent advances in the field of molecular mechanisms and alterations driving the development of thyroid disorders, and to highlight how the basic research has the potential to influence and contribute to the clinical perspective.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
