

Special Issue

Toxicology and Pharmacology of Natural Products

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue seeks to provide insights into the pharmacology and toxicology of natural products. It aims to illuminate both their potential as therapeutic agents and the safety considerations that accompany their use. We welcome original research articles and reviews that cover, but are not limited to, the following topics:

- Pharmacological properties of natural products;
- Toxicological evaluations of natural products;
- Drug discovery from natural sources;
- Interactions between natural products and pharmaceuticals;
- Advancements in analytical techniques and ethnopharmacological approaches;
- Regulatory and ethical considerations;
- Case studies and clinical trials.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
