

Special Issue

Adipogenesis and Adipose Tissue Metabolism

Message from the Guest Editors

The aim of this Special Issue is to gather both reviews and research articles unraveling the mechanisms that underlie adipocyte differentiation as well as adipokines production and function to identify the major contributor(s) of obesity and lipid metabolism-related diseases, while works covering new insights on fundamental aspects of hormonal control of adipose tissue metabolism are also desirable. Keywords

- adipogenesis
- adipocytes
- white adipose tissue
- adipokines
- lipid metabolism
- oxidative stress
- obesity
- lipodistrophy
- metabolic syndrome
- comparative endocrinology

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
