Molecular Researches in Neuroinflammation and Brain Tumors

Message from the Guest Editor

We warmly welcome submissions, including original papers and reviews. Our Special Issue will focus on, but is not restricted to:

- Tumor profiling for the discovery of novel targeted biomarkers;
- The role of inflammation in brain pathologies, including, but not limited to, brain tumors;
- Synergistic combination treatment targeting signaling networks;
- Targeting the cross-talk between cancer stem cells, cancer cells, and the tumor microenvironment;
- Immunotherapy combinations in brain tumors;
- Mechanisms of resistance in combined immunotherapies;
- Adoptive cellular therapy in these complex diseases;
- Therapeutic modulation of the gut-brain axis in brain pathologies;
- Natural products—an emerging therapeutic approach in combinatorial therapy;
- Combination strategies for precision medicine.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
