

Special Issue

Molecular Advances in Cancer Genetics 2.0

Message from the Guest Editors

In this second version of the Special Issue, we welcome reviews, original research articles, and short communications that focus on or are relevant to the evolution of methodological approaches to the study of cancer genetics and genomics, the molecular bases of cancer, hereditary cancer syndromes, tumor mutational assessment and interpretation of genomic variants, or potential therapeutic implications of hereditary predisposition. Keywords

- cancer genetics
- molecular mechanisms
- genetics of hereditary and rare cancers
- evolution of methodological approaches to the study of cancer genetics and genomics
- variant interpretation
- actionability of genomic findings in cancer
- somatic mutation testing

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)
