

Topical Collection

Feature Papers in “Molecular Biology”

Message from the Collection Editor

Dear colleagues, This Topical Collection entitled “Feature Papers in Molecular Biology” aims to collect high-quality research articles, communications, and review articles in cutting-edge fields of molecular biology. Since the aim of this Topical Collection is to illustrate, through selected works, frontier research in molecular biology, we encourage Editorial Board Members of the Molecular Biology Section of the International Journal of Molecular Sciences to contribute feature papers reflecting the latest progress in their research field, or to invite relevant experts and colleagues to do so. Topics include, but are not limited to,

- Biological activities at the molecular level;
- Biological processes of cell functions and maintenance;
- Molecular processes of cell division, senescence and cell death;
- Biomolecules interactions and cell-to-cell communication;
- DNA, and RNA biosynthesis, metabolism, interactions and functions;
- Protein biosynthesis, degradation and functions;
- Regulation of molecular interactions in a cell.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
