Future Challenges and Trends of Nucleic Acids

Message from the Guest Editors

For this Special Issue, entitled "Future Challenges and Trends of Nucleic Acids", we encourage authors to submit research papers and comprehensive reviews that describe the numerous applications of nucleic acids in areas encompassing diagnostics, therapeutics, and synthetic biology, exploring the directions in which the chemistry and biology of nucleic acids is developing, or is likely to develop, in the near or distant future.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)
