

Special Issue

Transport Proteins for Microbial Adaptations 2.0

Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, we aim to collect original research or review articles discussing aspects of the evolution of transporter specificities associated with adaptations in bacteria, archaea, protists or fungi. We would like to dedicate this special issue to H. Ronald Kaback (1936–2019), whose seminal work on lac permease shaped the academic life of so many researchers in the field of active membrane transport.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, and molecular biophysics. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)
