

Special Issue

Supramolecular Polymers and Their Assemblies

Message from the Guest Editors

The development of supramolecular polymers over the last few decades has largely gone hand-in-hand with progress relating to the synthesis and characterization of new efficient and stimuli-responsive supramolecular building blocks. Great strides have been made in transforming these academically interesting macromolecules into assemblies with a range of applications, which concern advanced materials, medicine, and catalysis. In this Special Issue, we invite submissions focusing on new developments relating to the synthesis, self-assembly, and function of supramolecular polymers.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
