

Special Issue

Data Science for Environment Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

For this Special Issue of Information on “Data Science for Environmental Sustainability”, we invite authors to submit articles on, but not limited to, the following topics:

- data-analysis-driven analysis, policies, and case studies of environmental parameters such as renewable energy, air and water pollution, and water leakage management;
- enhancement of data analysis techniques such as predictions, time series forecasting, data imputations, optimization methodologies, and their applications in environmental sustainability;
- data collection, data cleaning, and novel visualization techniques;
- and data analysis tools, software, and packages for use in environmental sustainability.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The concept of Information is to disseminate scientific results achieved via experiments and theoretical results in depth. It is very important to enable researchers and practitioners to learn new technology and findings that enable development in the applied field.

Information is an online open access journal of information science and technology, data, knowledge and communication. It publishes reviews, regular research papers and short communications. We invite high quality work, and our review and publication processing is very efficient.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Willy Susilo

School of Computer Science and Software Engineering, University of Wollongong, Northfields Avenue, Wollongong, NSW 2522, Australia
