

Special Issue

Innovative Tools, Technologies and Systems to Reduce Road Traffic Deaths and Injuries

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue will address some of the most essential issues currently affecting road safety. It welcomes high-quality original research and review articles that cover a broad range of topics related to traffic deaths and injuries, including those concerning roads, cars, heavy vehicles, pedestrians and cyclists. Research papers (case studies, reviews and policy related) from different parts of the world are invited. Potential topics include but are not limited to the following:

- Combination of physical and traffic management systems suitable to improve safety for motorists, pedestrians and cyclists.
- Pavement friction treatment and management.
- Impact of real time meetings and smart working on mobility change.
- Emerging technologies in driving behaviour.
- Safety tools to discover black spots.
- Advanced road safety systems
- Advanced driving safety systems.
- Roadside passive safety
- Smart and sustainable urban roads.
