

Special Issue

Practices and Innovation in Infrastructure Financing

Message from the Guest Editors

Building transportation infrastructure has a high economic and social impact, while long-term investment follows. Therefore, long-term financing can be easily exposed to uncertainty and financial risks. The purpose of this special issue is to share examples of new transportation infrastructure financial techniques going on worldwide and to publish original or review studies on innovative financial techniques. The topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Advances in infrastructure financing;
- Best practices in infrastructure financing;
- The mechanism of infrastructure financing;
- Advances in forecasting methods for financing;
- Social issues and infrastructure financing;
- Private–public partnerships;
- The performance measurement of infrastructure financing instruments;
- The project management of financing and delivery;
- Information sharing for innovative finance;
- Candidate revenue sources.
