Special Issue

Security of Data & IoT Infrastructures, Cyber Security, and Intelligent IoT Techniques

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to uncover the latest significant knowledge that is based on practical investigations on the security of IoT Infrastructures, cyber-physical protection, and machine learning in IoT approaches that can be used to guarantee the safety of IoT infrastructures. As a result, this Special Issue welcomes relevant contributions from researchers, that offer pertinent solutions on open problems, existing, or future challenges in IoT infrastructures from academia and industry perspectives.
