

Special Issue

Cardiovascular Disease in Athletes

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue welcomes contributions, both in the form of original research article and high-quality reviews, in the field of sports cardiology. Case reports that illustrate novel findings or that serve to highlight important teaching points will also be considered. In particular, manuscripts may address one of the following topics:

- 1) Differential diagnosis between athlete's heart and cardiovascular diseases;
- 2) Strategies of preparticipation screening of athletes for prevention of sudden cardiac death;
- 3) Interpretation of the athlete's electrocardiogram;
- 4) Arrhythmias in the athletes: differentiation between benign and at-risk patterns;
- 5) Cardiac imaging for evaluation of athletes with suspected cardiac conditions;
- 6) Management of athletes with cardiovascular conditions;
- 7) Secondary prevention of sudden cardiac death during sport (on-field resuscitation);
- 8) Return-to-play after COVID-19.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The primary goal of the Journal of Cardiovascular Development and Disease (JCDD, ISSN 2308-3425) is to provide cardiovascular scientists a platform to publish their work in a quick and efficient way. Topics can range from studies designed to decipher the events underlying early heart development to studies focusing on the origins of congenital and acquired heart disease. Papers submitted to JCDD undergo a fast, yet thorough, peer-review process. In this process, we will apply strict ethical policies and standards. JCDD guarantees fast dissemination of results to a large scientific audience
